A Day in the Life . . .

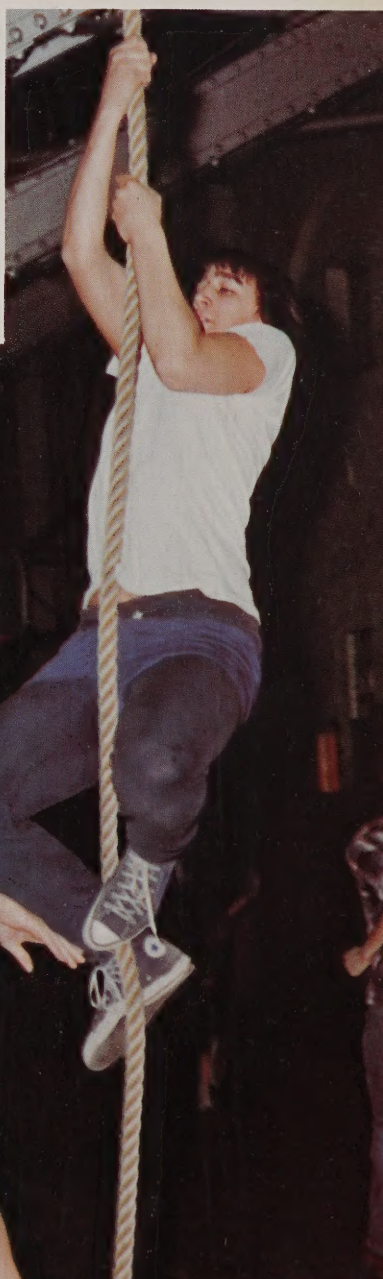
You wake up at 6:30 with Dale Doorman's voice buzzing in your ear, fall out of bed, dress in the dark, and rush to the bus stop.

You get off the Marinel yellow bus — half dead with one eye open — and trudge toward the "new" building. "Who can function properly at the ungodly hour of 7:25," you wonder, wishing desperately that you had an extra hour of sleep in the morning. Whose idea was it to change the time, anyway? As you struggle to open the door, you realize that you have a big decision to make: Palmer's or Maxwell House.

Because you don't have much time, you decide to grab a greasy doughnut in the smartly decorated caf. You keep an eye constantly on the clock because you don't want to be late: 5 tardies = 1 absence and 5 absences = 1 demerit. The senior class motto has become: Save Your Skips — late May and early June afford great beach-going weather.

As you go up to your locker, you have to dodge Mr. Georgoulis who is careening down the hall on his 10-speed Raleigh. Thus another uneventful day at LHS begins.

Right: But how can I be late if I'm sitting down? Far right: Gail Quattrochi; Center: Do you think she knows she's boring? Below left: Don't cut it up too much, they're going to use it in the caf. Below right: Dean Garrett, "How can I keep the rope steady if you keep kicking me in the face?"



Classtime: stomaches growling in harmony; the succulent aroma of cafeteria food cooking making people rather disect a shark . . . Daydreaming: the view in canal-side classrooms is better.

Do you remember: the last Field Day, the walkouts Sophomore year, newly announced Girl Officers running into the corridors screaming and then rushing home, mistaking Mr. McInerney for Mr. Sullivan; do you remember seeing Mr. Sullivan?

A new record for LHS: an average of at least one fire drill a week!

The alternative to cafeteria leftovers for seniors: Ricky's, Pizzaland, Heritage, or the Ice Cream Man.

TRULLISMS:
CHIRPER — a rare species; member of Class Aves; frequently spotted at assemblies, school gatherings and at any other function which excuses them from class.
STICK THROWERS — scantily garbed weapon-bearing females often seen attempting not to drop their batons as they strut to music provided by Band Aids.
BAND AIDS — a group of people filled with hot air and anxieties who vent their frustrations by subjecting the student body to cacophonous horn blowing, drum beating, and glockenspiel glocking.
SAFARI — no excuse for not having your homework! Safaris to museums, amusement parks, etc. should be held after school.

1:25

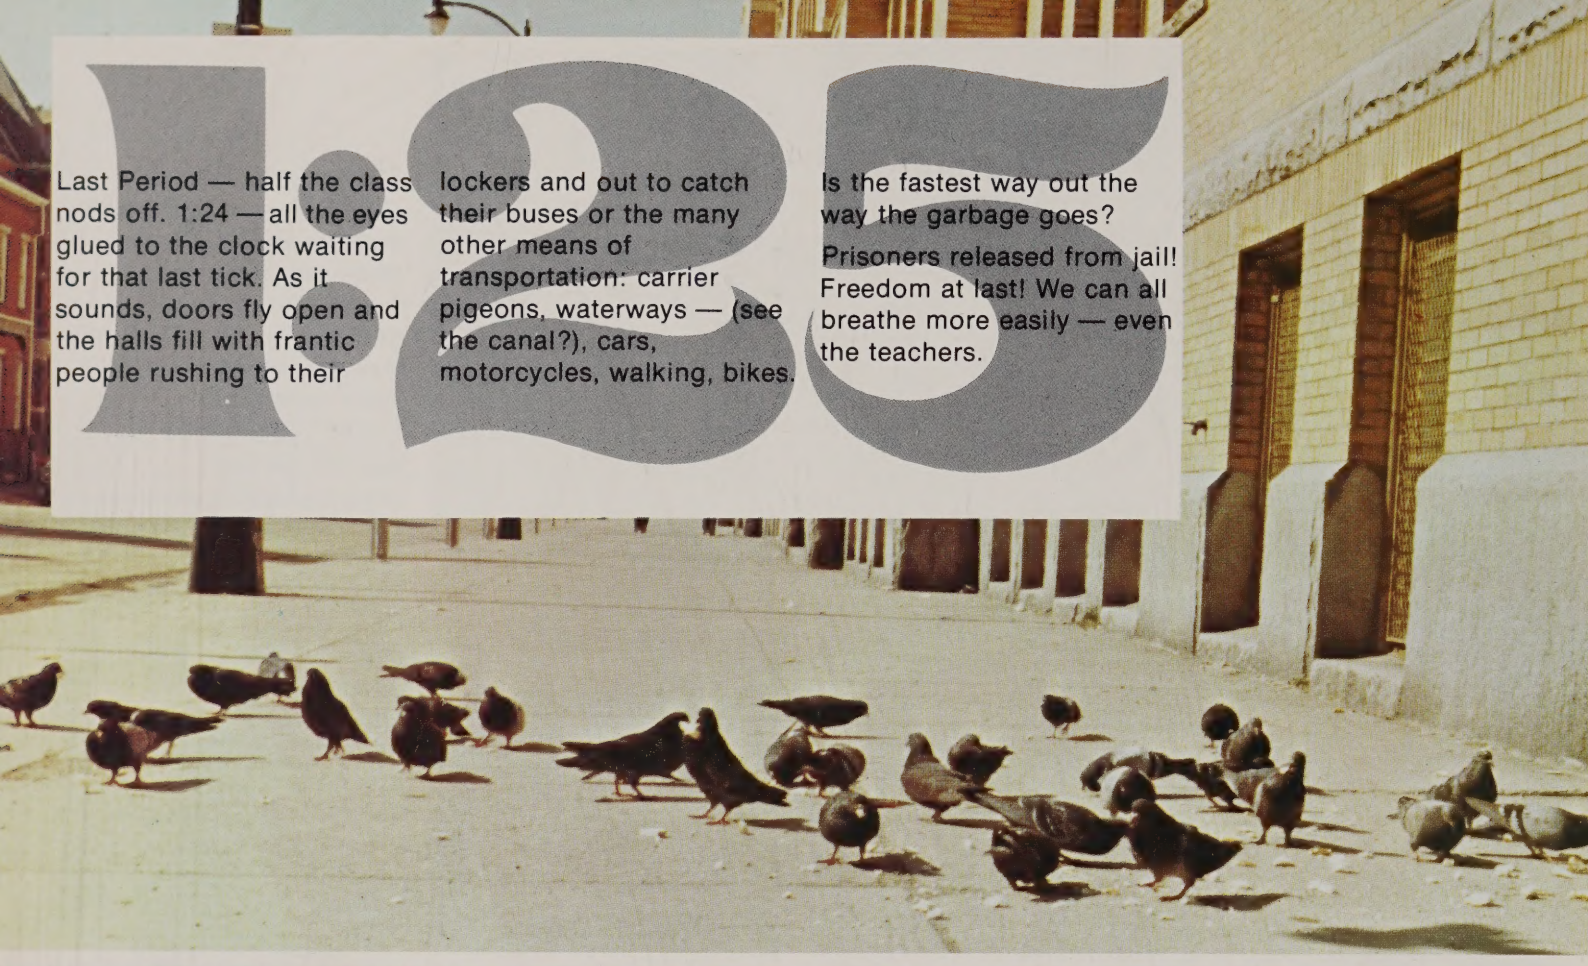
Last Period — half the class nods off. 1:24 — all the eyes glued to the clock waiting for that last tick. As it sounds, doors fly open and the halls fill with frantic people rushing to their lockers and out to catch their buses or the many other means of transportation: carrier pigeons, waterways — (see the canal?), cars, motorcycles, walking, bikes. Is the fastest way out the way the garbage goes?

Prisoners released from jail! Freedom at last! We can all breathe more easily — even the teachers.



SCHOOL BUS

From above counterclockwise: Donna Callahan and Sandy Ramalho; Terry Lantagne; Donna Sotakos — biting your lip is better than your nails; Karen Price, Laura Deutchman; Kathy Casey; Roger McNulty

S-P-I-R-I-T!

Promoting school spirit: band, cheerleaders, fans, pep rallies (hmm . . . someone should tell those silicone injected cheerleaders to shave their legs)

Remember: The Lion's roar may be loud, but the Raider's war cry is sincere.

There's more to school than just books and assignment cards. School activities are not confined to the old and new buildings, but also Prince Grotto, Windsor, and DiBurro's.

The new look in formal evening attire: Togas . . . Mr. Notini's got rhythm! and so do a lot of LHS students. It comes naturally when you've got the great music of Armada to move to . . . The Saturnalia — a night to remember. Mr. Murphy wore his wife's wig while Mr. Trull just wore a perplexed expression.

Bottom left: Dave Frawley, our Golden Boy: he knows how to put up a good fight; Below: Mark Trudel, did you miss a safari, also? Bottom right: Kathy Kiernan, what's so funny? Right: Denise Walker springs into action as the gang looks on in admiration and disbelief.

Bottom: Steve Paulenka, Pam Coravos, Marcia Downes, Eddie Villaros: Can you tell what it is, Marcia? Left: Lynne Maguire and Terry Lantagne; Below: Brenda Mayrand, Kathy Boutet, Cheryl Abraham, Janice Conlon, Debbie Burns: Lunch is much more enjoyable out on Lucy Larcom as long as you keep an eye open for very hungry dogs.

The class of 1977 dedicates this book to Thomas F. Murphy

This year has been a most productive learning experience for all of us.

You now possess the basic skills, the tools to really take that step into the world of adults — the true meaning of graduation.

What does it promise you — everything! Living, love, success in all your undertakings, all the ingredients of a fulfilled life. If only you remember the ideals that have been inculcated in each of you this past year, especially: —

Love one another, respect for each other regardless of the foibles and idiosyncrasies which are imbedded to some degree in all of us. The great dignity that each of you has — the proud interdependence, a spirit that will never be mitigated: —

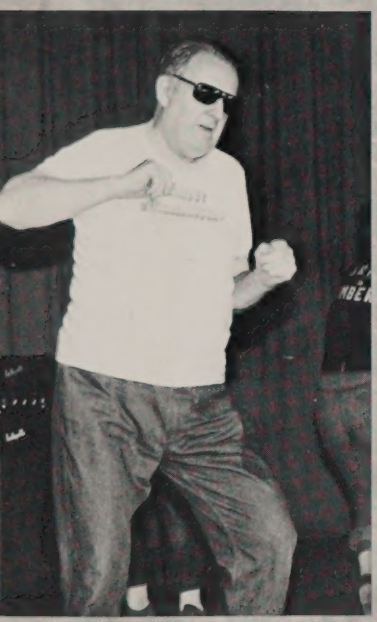
This is how I view the class of 1977. In my remaining days you will always be an integral part of me. I shall look for and savor your successes for I know they will be many.

I have learned much from you — for this I am deeply grateful.

Success, happiness, and your fondest dreams, may they all come true!

Goodbye and God bless each one of you in a special way.

Thomas F. Murphy



All good things must come to an end. And so it is that Thomas F. Murphy, Senior Floormaster of Lowell High School, retired this year after a thirty-two year career in the Lowell Public School System.

With his magnetic personality, his rare sense of humorous expression and his wisdom, gained through wide experience, Mr. Murphy won the respect and admiration of every graduating student. He gave help and comfort to the ones who needed it and was a friend to those who were alone. He touched each and every one of us in a very special way.

Our class of 1977, Mr. Murphy's eighteenth as Senior Floormaster, has already graduated. Together, both Mr. Murphy and we are embarking on our own new adventures. For all of us, each today will be our own personal graduation . . . our private mark in time between the past and the future . . . our own farewell to yesterday, our welcome to tomorrow.

Yet, before we disperse, each striving for separate goals, attempting to realize different dreams and ambitions, it is only fitting that we, as Mr. Murphy's last graduating class, should join his friends and colleagues in wishing him a happy and joyous retirement.

Unlike old soldiers who retire and fade away, one man who will forever live in the hearts of those at Lowell High School is Thomas F. Murphy.

Oh, Mr. Murphy, you say that to all the girls.

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Julie Judd, Secretary; David Frawley, President; Joseph Sweeney, Treasurer; Rita Jean, Vice-President.

Joanne Christides

December 16, 1959 — November 7, 1976

Joanne Christides was a senior at Lowell High School when she died — the vicitim of a fatal shooting tragedy — on November 7, 1976, 2:35 p.m., at Lowell General Hospital. Her brother John Paul, a student at Bartlett Junior High School, died a few minutes earlier, 2:23 p.m., at Saint Joseph's Hospital.

Joanne lived in Lowell all her life. She graduated from the Hellenic American School in 1971 and from Bartlett Junior High School with perfect attendance on June 12, 1974. Joanne was very active in community affairs as evidenced by her participation in the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church choir, the Maids of Athena, and the Greek Orthodox Youth of America.

Even those who did not know Joanne must feel a deep sense of loss. Quiet and shy are adjectives that may be used to describe Joanne but she was much more than that: Joanne was warmhearted, co-operative, and dedicated to God, her family, and friends.

Joanne Christides, as well as her brother John Paul, will always be remembered by her classmates and when we look back on the happiest days of our lives, Senior Year, we will recall how they weren't so cheerful because Joanne wasn't there to enjoy them with us.

It has been said that "any road will do; if you do not know where you are going." You have just completed that part of your life in which outside direction and guidance from your parents, from your teachers, or from others were dominant factors. Some of you resented it; others leaned on it heavily like a crutch; but most of you have matured under it and have already made a successful transition from adolescence to adulthood. Some of you have already experienced your moment of glory; but moments of glory are just that, moments. The same can be said of disappointments. The test now is the ability to come down off that pedestal or up off the floor to meet the challenges of life, the bigger game. Those of us that have preceded you can assure you that you have only just begun; the best is out front. Go get it, go do it, excel. We have tried to prepare you; now take with you our best wishes. The greatness of your future is predicated on the greatness of the goals you set for yourselves.

In Memoriam
Charles E. Peverill, Jr.

The administration, faculty and student body at Lowell High School were stunned and saddened by the sudden and untimely death of Charles Peverill last January.

Charles Peverill had been an English teacher at the high school for five and one-half years. During this time, Mr. Peverill brought knowledge, dedication and excitement to his teaching. He did so despite ill health during his last two years.

Charles Peverill, who was a graduate of Lowell High School, Class of 1963, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Lowell State College and his Master of Arts from Salem State College. He was also involved with the theater groups of those institutions and had written original plays for the stage. A veteran of the Armed Forces, he served with distinction in the Vietnam conflict.

We extend our deepest sympathies to the family and friends of Mr. Peverill. His death causes a rage within us against the loss of this vibrant, witty, intelligent, often controversial and never dull personality. We shall not see the like of Charles Peverill again, but the memory of the man will long remain in the minds and hearts of those who knew him.

Victor Luz

January 31, 1977 Lowell High School was saddened by the retirement of its hard working and efficient chairman of the Mathematics Department, Mr. Victor Luz.

Mr. Luz's early retirement was precipitated by ill health. He had been chairman of the Math Department for twelve and one-half years and had previously taught mathematics at Lowell High since his election in 1958. Under his tutelage, the Math Department became one of the most efficient and innovative departments at Lowell High School.

Victor Luz's absence leaves a void that may never be completely filled. He will be missed by his friends, the faculty, staff, and students of Lowell High School.

Marie P. Sweeney

Marie Sweeney's resignation has left the High School without its chief cheerleader. She tirelessly planned parties for the Faculty Club; brought order out of chaos at the Student-Faculty shows; encouraged multitudes of applications for the Lowell Historical Society contest; conducted walking tours of downtown Lowell to inspire students with the love she had for her city.

We miss her.

L. Wyman Trull

Since 1939 when he was elected to the faculty, Mr. Wyman Trull has been part of the backbone of our school. After graduating from Lowell High School, Mr. Trull entered Bowdoin College where he majored in history. On taking his degree, he returned to Lowell High where he soon became one of the strengths of the History Department as well as a valued member of the Latin Department.

Mr. Trull has been more than a teacher — he has been a friend, a confidant, and a counselor to many of the young men and women who were his students. His encouragement and interest have sent many on to college, especially to Bowdoin. It was in recognition of his loyalty and hard work for his Alma Mater that he was presented the "Bowdoin Distinguished Educator" award in 1974.

We've been fortunate to have had him at Lowell High. His devotion to duty, his interest in his classes, his sense of humor are all part of what gives vitality to our school.

AD MULTOS ANNOS,
WYMAN.

John Lenihan

A quiet, unassuming man, John Lenihan directed his talents in the area of reading.

Elected to the system in 1951, he taught at the Daley School and worked in two Title III Programs for the City of Lowell Schools.

John Lenihan was transferred to Lowell High School as a teacher of Developmental Reading. He especially helped those students who needed to upgrade their SAT scores at the last minute.

We will miss him and we wish him well in his retirement.

Anne M. Gallagher

A dedicated teacher who has given many years of service to Lowell High School, Anne Gallagher is a woman who cares about her students and her school.

A graduate of Immaculate Conception High School and Boston University, she was elected to the Lowell High faculty in 1939 as a member of the Business Education Department. She has taught English and typewriting.

As she leaves our ranks, we wish her good health and happiness for many years to come.

Walter S. McInerney

Walter S. McInerney retired as senior custodian at Lowell High School on June 30, 1976. His 55 year service spanned three Head Masters, approximately 40,000 graduates, and hundreds of teachers. He is recalled as an accomodating person, jovial by nature, and totally dedicated in promoting pride in and loyalty toward Lowell High School. He was especially gifted as raconteur of stories, past history, events and personalities connected with the school over the years. To have known Mr. McInerney was a rewarding experience. To remember him, a privilege.

Hugh Barnes

Mr. Hugh Barnes met an untimely and unfortunate death, last fall, in the performance of his duties. He replaced Mr. Walter S. McInerney as senior custodian on July 1, 1976. Although with us but a few months, he was in the process of reorganizing and reassigning personnel toward a more efficient and effective maintenance of Lowell High School. His death certainly was premature and unexpected.

Mr. Barnes was a graduate of Lowell High School and an exceptional athlete in his day — baseball being his specialty. He had a warm personality, a perpetual smile, and the ability to direct his staff with dignity. After a long tenure in the same position at the Edith Nourse Rogers School, he came to us completely dedicated toward a purpose. Unfortunately, his objectives were never personally realized. But he did attempt to set high standards of work performance. During his very short stay here, he impressed all with his cooperation and concern.

ACTIVITIES

NHS

The Lowell High School Chapter of the National Honor Society celebrated its fiftieth anniversary this year. The Society recognizes students outstanding in leadership, character, scholarship, and service. Approximately 15 per cent of the senior class pass the rigorous requirements and are inducted into the Society; while about 5 per cent of the junior class become members.

The NHS sponsored a University of Lowell Jazz Band Concert, the proceeds of which were used to award three scholarships.

The induction ceremony was held on April 26, 1977. After the formalities, a social hour was held in the cafeteria during which parents, teachers, and NHS members had a chance to mingle and talk.

Choral Arts

The choral arts department had a busy year, starting with the first assembly and finishing with graduation. At Christmas they had concerts at the Central Savings Bank, the Elks Club, and Anderson Little. They also had a concert at City Hall for St. Patrick's Day, and at the Court House for the naturalization ceremony. The highlight of the year was the production in May of "Annie Get Your Gun."

DECA

Distributive Education prepares students for various business careers. It is a cooperative learning program that combines classroom instruction with on the job experience. The students work from fifteen to twenty-eight hours per week and receive compensation for their work.

DECA started out the year with a Halloween party for the Day Care Center at the United Baptist Church. At Christmas time, Mary Jane Connors and Gerry Ayotte decorated the Christmas tree at the Solomon Mental Health Center. A party was held at the Greenhalge School for the Special Education classes. DECA student Rick Laflamme as Santa brightened up the event. February was the date of the Regional Conference at the Colonial Inn in Lynnfield. Lowell High came home with a number of winners: Nancy Stowell, Susan Rancourt, Michael Maloney, Joe Mellen, Robin LaBrecque, and Linda Quimby.

The state convention was held in March at Dunfey's Inn at Hyannis. Of the twenty-eight LHS DECA students participating, nineteen won awards. John Massette won first place for his cover drawing and received a trophy for his accomplishment. Other prize winners include: Elaine O'Brien, Gerry Mullen, Colleen O'Sullivan, Robin LaBrecque, and Michael Maloney.

All in all, DECA students had a busy and successful year.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League, under the direction of Mrs. Grace Scanlan, expanded their usual program this year to include a lecture on mythology. The guest lecturer was Professor Schork, head of the Classics Department at U. Mass, Boston.

Another of the club's highlights was the Saturnalia, held at the Prince Grotto Restaurant in December. JCL ended the year with the trip to the state convention in Wakefield. LHS entered many of the events, including the chariot race, and brought home a few awards.

Activities Night

The second annual LHS Activities Night was held at the Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday, March 16, 1977.

The evening began with a parade of everyone who was to participate in the program. This was followed by a number of routines ranging from the LHS chorus singing college alma mater songs to the graceful and perfect routines of gymnast, Denise Walker.

The Indian Clubs and Sword Drill were performed by the Girl Officers, possibly for the last time. Even the wrestlers participated by showing different wrestling techniques. The Cadet Officers performed a precision military drill with rifles.

All in all, the second Activities Night was a success.

Colonel Rita Jean and Lieutenant Colonel Janice Carroll led the Girl Officers Regiment this year during much controversy and legal arbitration. Tryouts were held at the end of the school year but the future of Girl Officers was uncertain to say the least.

The Girl Officers Program is in direct violation with anti-discrimination State Law 622. When the Girl Officer Alumnae were informed of this problem they were presented with several alternatives: open the program to boys, make it an afterschool activity, or seek the passage of a bill through the State Legislature that would specifically allow for the continuance of Girl Officers as an all girl program.

The selection of 72 Girl Officers from a field of 120 candidates last June highlighted for many young ladies years of practice and anticipation. Traditionally, Girl Officers teach gym exercises to underclassmen, represent Lowell High School at various civic functions, and help to develop future Girl Officers.

The Cadet Officers' Brigade has been a unique institution at Lowell High School since 1880. During their junior year, boys and girls compete for ranks in both written and physical exams. The Generalcy, a competition for promotion within the ranks, is conducted at the beginning of the senior year. This year, Carol Campbell attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, making her the first female officer in the Brigade's ninety-seven year history.

Under the guidance of faculty director Colonel John Beaulieu and Lieutenant Philip Dancause, Brigadier General James Gaffney and Colonel Brian Scott have led the Brigade to the completion of its final year.

On May 5th and 6th, the LHS choral arts and drama departments, under the direction of Michael Sokolowski and B. Douglas Townshend produced the hit musical, "Annie Get Your Gun." Donna Sotakos captivated the audience with her performance as sharp-shooter Annie Oakley, and Fred Gallagher was smooth and handsome as Frank Butler, the man Annie couldn't get with her gun. Jim Gaffney was perfect as the sleazy promoter, Charlie Davenport. It was a lively, fun show, enjoyed by the audiences of both nights.

"Happy Days" was the theme of the Eighth Annual Student-Faculty-Alumni Talent Show. This yearly display of various talents (?) took place on March 31, 1977.

Once again the Talent Show proved that — yes — teachers and students can work together.

Who would have thought that Colonel Beaulieu could sing? How many students knew that Stephan Fitch wrote poetry or that Kelly Clancy was such a good singer? And who will ever forget the look on Mrs. Donlon's face as she was forced to sample that cream pie?

Roundball Night

The Student-Faculty Basketball Game once again posed the pressing question — who are the better basketball players, the students or the faculty??? Of course the students did have a few advantages such as uniforms, organization and physical fitness. The teachers wore various assortments of shorts and t-shirts, were in a state of total confusion and were not in tip-top physical condition. LHS alumni helped the students to defeat the LHS teachers who were aided by the teachers of the grade and junior high schools on March 4, 1977 at the Scondras Gym.

Donkey Basketball

On October 19, 1976, the wrestling team again sponsored their annual Donkey Basketball Game. The women teachers (Norma's Bombers) challenged the men teachers, and the wrestlers tried to prove their strength against the cheerleaders; or rather, their strength against the donkeys.

As the ten players mounted their donkeys, some of the animals decided they didn't want to play, and promptly sat on the floor. Others resolved to make their riders use brooms and dustpans, much to the delight of the crowd.

Who won? The donkeys, of course!

The Band

The Lowell High Band shared an important role in the activities of the school year. They played at the assemblies and many evening performances, including the Talent Show and the play. The Stage Band was also very popular with the audience at the Talent Show.

The LHS Band also cooperated with the city, marching in several parades, including the St. Patrick's Day Parade. At an evening concert in February the band played for an appreciative audience.

Mr. Notini and Mr. Gougeon and their band members put in long hours of practice after school and it certainly showed. They provided many hours of entertainment that were enjoyed by many people.

Aren't those new band uniforms a 100% improvement over the old ones? Above right: The band lines up to play at half time; Below: David Harvey keeps the beat on the tiffany drums; Above: Marc Giroux.

Wrestling

The '77 wrestling team ended the season with an impressive record: 12-5-0. The boys worked very hard practicing and training under the direction of coaches George Bossi and Brian Urquhart.

Loyal fans will always remember the first half hour of every meet. First, Dave Beati would put Lowell ahead right from the start. Up next was twin brother Phil Beati who had an outstanding year, losing only once and winning the state championship. Next in line was junior Brian McMahon, followed by co-captain Jim Kacavas. Jim had a good year until a knee injury slowed him down. Each meet had a spectacular finish with Jack Davis wrestling in the unlimited class.

Boys' Track

The boys' track team was relatively small this year. The team did, however, qualify for the States.

A big let down for the team was the loss of Jim Tully. Jim became ill with bronchitis and could not finish out the season. He was able to compete in many events and therefore would have added needed depth to the team.

The boys still ended the season with a 4-6 record.

From the left, counterclockwise: Joe Suslovitch strives to throw the javelin; Charlie Daley possibly breaking another record; Ken Wedge clearing the high jump.

Boys' Tennis

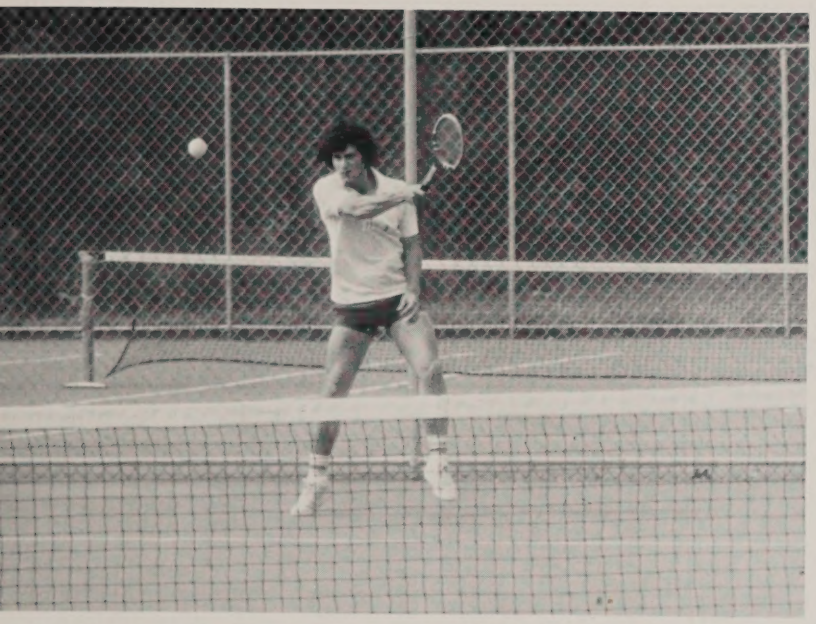
Despite the losses of Head Coach D. Scott Davis and their best player, Ian Brown, the team pulled together to overcome their handicaps. Coach Davis did, however, return to coach LHS in a match against a team that they had lost to earlier in the year. LHS won the match 5-4, breaking a long string of losses.

Senior tennis players included: Victor Duarte, David Hickey, and Captain Bill Hamilton.



From center left, clockwise: Victor Duarte following through; Dave Hickey; Captain Bill Hamilton; a nice backhand from Bob Oliver; Dennis Sullivan.

Golf

The golf team had a good season this spring with a 11-3-2 record. They had two outstanding accomplishments which are worth mentioning. One is that LHS beat rival Chelmsford for the first time in several years. The team tied top-ranked Peabody, and they sent Matt King and Joe Sweeney to the city tournament. The senior captain of this young and inexperienced team was Matt King and the junior captain was John Blazon. An outstanding senior golfer was John Silver.

Softball

Because of the strong determination and effort of a group of girls at Lowell High School, a girls' varsity softball program was initiated in 1977. The enthusiasm and spirit generated by the girls promises to make it a continuing success. Although record-wise the girls did not fare well this season, the talent and potential of all the undergraduates ensures a tremendous improvement. The only two seniors on the squad were Co-captains, Janet Moriarty and Michelle O'Brien.

From above, counterclockwise: The team in a moment of spirit; Becky Obdens; Jolynn Graham; Dana Howe.

Hockey

The LHS skaters had a good season, finishing with a record of 8-8-0. Under the direction of Coach Bill Robinson, the '77 hockey team was the first to defeat Shawsheen Tech in two years, quite an accomplishment.

The team was made up of such players as Senior Class President Dave Frawley and top ranking boy John Curseaden, who was also high scorer. Many of the players, including Mike Campbell, John Curseaden, Rick Couillard, Matt King, Ticky Kulis, and Jonathan Silver were members of the All Stars in the Commonwealth Athletic Conference. Other noted seniors: Gary Desmond, Tom Graham, and Joe Sweeney.

Boys' Basketball

From above center, clockwise: Tom Torrisi; Chuck Brunelas scoring two points; the team in action; Chuck Brunelas; Tom Courtney blocking a pass.

The boys' basketball team got off to a slow start, but they picked up speed by the end of the season to finish with a record of 8-12-0. The '77 team has a long list of accomplishments: scoring 106 points against Methuen, beating Chelmsford, Dracut, and all the MVC teams that they played, winning the last seven out of eight games played, and Chuck Brunelas' and Bob Jarek's making the Lowell Sun All-Star Team.

The team will regret the loss of senior players Chuck Brunelas, Bob Jarek, and Steve Hays, but is looking forward to a better start next year.

Baseball

Although the team's record was not a winning one, there was both power and consistency among some of the players. First baseman, Kevin O'Neil, played very well defensively and when at bat, really put power behind his swing. Short Stop, George Byron, had the most consistent hitting on the team with an average of 290. Third baseman, Jack McNamara, utilized both power and consistency when at bat. Jack was considered the most effective hitter on the team. Pitcher Mike Campbell was hurt during the early part of the season. He did pitch three games, and all three were victories. Coach Mike Skaff was both talented and dedicated.

Graduation
June 8, 1977

We say goodbye to getting up with the birds. We say goodbye to Lucy Larcom Parkway, long waits in the Guidance Suite, assemblies, daily notices, three and three, cafeteria food, and bubble gum filled lollipops. But before we go on to school or work, we will say our goodbyes again at the Allstar game in August. And we will come back as alumni to see the Lowell High Raiders slaughter Lawrence on Thanksgiving Day.

Lowell High School,
Lowell High School,
May we ever stand
Honest, faithful, and courageous,
Loyal to our land.
Lowell High School,
Lowell High School,
We shall all be true to the ideals you
teach us,
Through and through.
